Meeting: Wed, Jul 2, 03:58 PM

Deal Stage: FOLLOW-UP

Location: Not specified

Key Stakeholders: bhavadeep

PROSPECT PROFILE & QUALIFICATION

Apple, a global technology leader, is exploring new product offers which suggest a potential shift in strategy possibly involving large scale deployments and migrations. While Bhavadeep's specific role and authority are undefined, this initial exploration phase provides an opportunity to influence their cloud strategy and showcase Cprime's expertise. The buying timeline is currently unknown, highlighting the need for effective qualification.

DEAL HISTORY & PIPELINE STATUS

This is the second meeting specifically on 'New Offers.' Commitments and objections from the previous meeting are unknown, but the very fact of this follow-up shows potential client interest in leveraging the new offers into Apple's technology architecture.

Sales Cycle: 3 touchpoints completed

COMPETITIVE INTELLIGENCE & MARKET PRESSURE

Apple's evolving strategy on new product offers could indicate a willingness to explore large-scale transformations and cost savings initiatives, creating urgency for optimizing infrastructure. Given the limited information on Bhavadeep's role, it's critical to understand his influence on technology adoption and budget allocation within Apple.

VALUE PROPOSITIONS (Lead with ROI)

- ▶ 1. Cprime can help Apple seamlessly integrate new product offers into its existing ecosystem, ensuring optimal performance and scalability, maximizing the ROI of these new ventures and increasing adoption. Focus on high-level architecture impact and future integrations.

- ▶ 2. Our cloud migration and architecture services can help Apple optimize its cloud infrastructure to support the increased demand generated by the new offers. This can drive significant cost savings in server management and scaling.
- ▶ 3. Cprime's digital transformation consulting can guide Apple in aligning its business processes and organizational structure to fully leverage the potential of the new product offers and its underlying technology.

QUALIFYING QUESTIONS (Advance the Sale)

- ▶ 1. What specific challenges are you facing in integrating and scaling these new product offers within Apple's current infrastructure?
- ▶ 2. What budget has been allocated for the technology transformation related to this new products initiative, and what are the key decision-making processes involved?
- ▶ 3. What are your top priorities and key performance indicators (KPIs) for the successful launch and long-term management of these new product offers?

DEAL RISKS & OBJECTION HANDLING

Potential Deal Killers: Competition from other consulting firms vying for Apple's business. Emphasize Cprime's specialized expertise in cloud migration and transformation. • Potential budget constraints or shifts in Apple's overall strategic priorities could impact the timeline and scope of the project. • Limited information on Bhavadeep's role and influence makes it difficult to assess the true potential of the opportunity. Qualifying Bhavadeep's influence is critical.

SALES OPPORTUNITIES & EXPANSION

Revenue Growth Potential: Upsell potential: By demonstrating the value of Cprime's expertise, we can expand the scope of the project to include broader cloud migration and digital transformation initiatives. • Urgency drivers: Apple's need to quickly and efficiently integrate the new product offers creates an immediate need for Cprime's services, accelerating the sales cycle. • Competitive advantages: Cprime's proven track record and industry-leading expertise in cloud technologies provide a significant competitive advantage.
