PROSPECT PROFILE & QUALIFICATION

Acme Corp is currently an unknown entity. We need to qualify them aggressively. Focus on uncovering their cloud adoption challenges, digital transformation needs, and DevOps inefficiencies impacting their revenue and bottom line. Determine their budget and decision-making process quickly.

DEAL HISTORY & PIPELINE STATUS

This is essentially a cold start. Prior meetings included internal briefing and discussion around platform infrastructure maintainence, and a sales briefing discussion, we have no concrete understanding of Acme Corp's needs or situation. Focus on building rapport and fact-finding.

Sales Cycle: 3 touchpoints completed

DEAL RISKS & OBJECTION HANDLING

Potential Deal Killers: Lack of prior engagement means we're starting from zero. If we fail to quickly qualify their needs and budget, we risk a cold rejection and wasted effort. • Without pre-existing relationships, there's a higher risk of a competitor already having a strong foothold. We need to quickly differentiate ourselves and establish trust. • If Acme Corp's problems are not well-defined or prioritized, they may not be willing to invest in a comprehensive solution, limiting the potential deal size.

SALES OPPORTUNITIES & EXPANSION

Revenue Growth Potential: The blank slate allows us to shape their understanding of their needs and position Cprime as the ideal partner for addressing them. Aim to become their trusted advisor. • If Acme Corp faces significant business challenges requiring a comprehensive transformation, we can potentially secure a larger engagement than initially anticipated. Look for expansion opportunities from initial conversation. • Early identification of urgency and budget could accelerate the sales cycle, allowing us to close the deal quickly and capture market share. Offer incentives for rapid decision-making.
